Married.

Edna Windle and David W. Griffiths were married at the home of the bride's mother north west of this city Wednesday evening. A few friends and relatives of the bride and groom were present and after the ceremony had been performed by Rev. Parsons of Salem, the happy couple were showered with congratulations.

The bride is the daughter of the late Wm. Windle. She was raised on the home farm northeast of town and is widely known. She is a highly accomplished young lady, possessing the accomplishments and traits of character that go to make up the true woman.

The groom is the postmaster at Verdon and one of the best known and most highly respected young men in the county. Both he and his bride have many friends who join in congratulating them on this happy occasion.

G. F. Marburger, Dead

George F. Marburger died at his home in Humboldt Friday afternoon. Mr. Marburger had been in poor health for a long time and his death, though not unexpected, comes as a shock to his friends throughout the county. The deceased was a prominent business man of Humboldt and had lived there for many years. He enjoyed a wide acquaintance and all those who knew him regarded him as an upright man and an exemplary citizen. He was prominent in lodge circles, being a member of the I. O. O. F., M. W. A., A. O. U. W. and D. of H. The funeral was held on Sunday afternoon from the Presbyterian church at Humboldt.

Concert and Ball

The concert and ball to be given by Harnack's Military band and the Arions at the German hall on Monday evening, February 1st, will be well worth attending. The concert will be something out of the ordinary and it will be followed by a ball, the music to be furnished by a good orchestra. Lovers of music and dancing should not fail to attend.

C. V. Hendricks has been very ill this week.

E. J. Shields has placed a phone in his new grocery. It is number 222.

Congressman Burkett has recommended John Marks to be postmaster at Barada.

We would like to have the business men look over this issue of The Tribune and see if an ad can be found in a poor position.

The peculiar manner in which one of the big cedar trees in Jim Jellisons front yard was demolished by the ice storm has attracted much attention. When the load of ice became too heavy, the big trunk split from top to bottom much as though it had been struck by lightning. The damage to trees all over the city was very great and the evergreens in Steele cemetery were also badly injured.

The regular services will be held at the Methodist church on Sunday. The pastor, Wharton B. Alexander will preach both morning and evening. Morning subject, "The Knowledge of Christ" for the evening "With or Against Christ." Sunday school meets at 9:45 a. m. with V. G. Lyford as superintendent. The Junior League meets at 3 p. m., Mrs. A. G. Wanner, superintendent. The Epworth League meets at 6:30 p. m., Lillian Dorrington, president.

The Tribune wants to print all the news. If you know anything good call up phone 226 and if necessary a reporter will call on you for particulars.

OLD WATCH AND CHAIN.

They Were Made by Ex-President Cleveland's Grandfather.

P. G. Perry, of South Windham, Conn., has an heirloom which he prizes very highly for two reasons. One is that it has been in the possession of his family ever since it was first made and that it was purchased by Commodore Perry, of Rhode Island, and the other reason is because it was made by ex-President Grover Cleveland's great-grandfather, says the Putnam Observer.

The heirloom is a watch and chain made of silver, and while it will run to-day it does not keep very good time, as the works are badly worn and Mr. Perry values it so highly that he does not try to keep it running, as he wishes to preserve it. The watch is similar to all old watches, it being very thick in the center and rounding toward the edges.

When the back of the case is opened the entire case comes off and it opens with a spring. It is an open face and has gold hands.

On the outside of the back of the case is a round printed slip that bears the name Will Cleveland, maker, Norwich.

The watch was repaired and cleaned the last time in 1843, and at that time the jeweler said that it was worn out as far as the works were concerned, but it will still run.

The chain is an old-fashioned pattern with a heavy hook to fasten it to the vest, and it was made by hand. Both the watch and chain are discolored from age, and Mr. Perry will not allow them to be cleaned. He does not know how old they are, but says they are considerably more than 100 years.

Cold Day.

It's a cold day for an office-holder when he gets fired.
